

Paccar recognizes top North American suppliers for 2018

Published by Successful Dealer Magazine on December 7, 2018

Paccar annually recognizes its top performing suppliers in its Supplier Performance Management (SPM) program. This honor is given to suppliers that reach the SPM Master, Leader and Achiever status. The SPM program evaluates a supplier's performance in the areas of product development, operations support and business alignment with Paccar objectives, according to an announcement.

Through the SPM program, suppliers and Paccar cross-functional teams collaborate to identify performance enhancements and to develop product innovations. Paccar has given 126 supplier awards since the launch of the SPM program in 2014.

“We are excited about the heightened levels of performance achieved by our suppliers since we launched the SPM program four years ago,” says Ron Augustyn, Paccar vice president of global purchasing. “We appreciate the value created for customers, dealers and Paccar from continuous improvement initiatives under the program.
